

Stop nurse bullying.

Nurses are the #1 trusted profession in America. But bullying is an ongoing problem - driving some nurses out of the profession and impacting patient care.

60%

of nurses leave their first job within 6 months because of coworker behavior.

72%

of nurses reported bullying from a provider in the last year.

78%

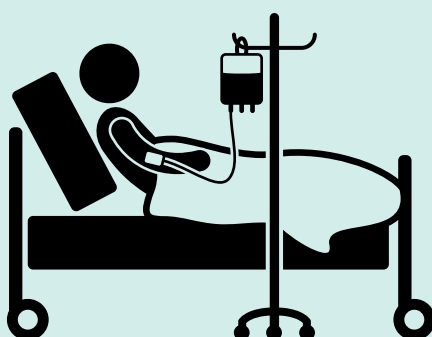

of nursing students experienced bullying over a 6 month period.

Nurse turnover costs the average hospital $5-$8 million a year.

Bullies wear many faces:

Other nurses

Patients and their families

Providers

5 ways we can build healthier nursing workplace cultures:

1. Learn to recognize overt and covert bullying.
2. Create and share policies that clearly define bullying and harassment.
3. Appoint a team to oversee bullying complaints and lead improvement programs.
4. Develop training and educational modules.
5. Create clear reporting pathways.